

Directions: Mix a 50 gram serving with 300 ml water, juice or milk. You can drink several servings a day depending on your body mass and energy demands. It's best to have a serving within 30 minutes after your workout.

The MASS formula is recommended for beginner and intermediate level sportsmen, or to those with high carbohydrate energy needs, as practical, easy to digest food supplements. MASS contains 8% whey protein that is very popular among bodybuilders, and 41 g carbohydrates per servings that makes it useful around and even during training.

Caution: As with all exercise and nutritional programs, please consult your physician first. Keep out of the reach of children! Use this product as a food supplement only.

Store in a cool, dry place. Heat and sunlight may damage the bottle!
